ISC West to Convene First Security Professional Advisory Board All Facets of the Security Industry Represented

(NORWALK, CT March 25) - - - The ISC portfolio of events announces the formation of the ISC Premier Security Professional Advisory Board consisting of representation from every security professional group. The mission of the Board is to provide input, ideas and insights into shaping the future of the ISC portfolio of events. The first meeting of the Board will take place at ISC West and a future meeting will be held during Security Week, the series of interrelated security events taking place this Fall: Securing New Ground; Security 500 and ISC Solutions. An additional strategy meeting will take place mid-year.

“The mission of the group is to ensure that the ISC portfolio of events is fully serving the entire security distribution channel currently and for the future,” said Ed Nichols, Vice President, ISC Events. “Delivering the most relevant content and product offerings and obtaining cutting-edge insights that enable us to help security professionals gain an edge in a rapidly evolving marketplace is the strategic goal of the group. We are quite thrilled with the caliber, professional experience of the group and are grateful for their volunteerism and commitment to the betterment of the ISC portfolio.”

“We are honored and grateful that so many of the industry’s thought leaders have agreed to serve on the Advisory Board,” SIA CEO Richard Chace said. “Their recommendations will help us ensure that the ISC events keep pace with the rapidly changing security industry and continue to meet the needs of the entire channel.”

The following security professionals make up the inaugural ISC Premier Security Professional Advisory Group:

- Carey Boethel, VP, Security Solutions, Siemens
